JASON ROBERTS

Arts Activist and Urban Interventionist

- What is your personal favourite spot in Dallas, Texas?

A street called Jefferson Boulevard in North Oak Cliff. It's this little string of mostly small latino businesses that have hand painted signs, small wares on the sidewalks, and music spilling out of every door.

- Which three words do you personally think should describe Dallas, Texas as a city in the future?

Conflicted, indeterminate, adaptable.

- Name a project or a place that has inspired you to start redesigning your neighbourhood and cities

The book Pattern Language by Christopher Alexander.
